Voters to Pass On Water Bonds Dec. 19; School Issue Comes Up for Vote Dec. 12

SUPERVISORS CALL SECOND ELECTION

$6,620,000 Issue to Be Voted on; Elliott Plan Selected

WEST FIGHTS COST

Laguna Supervisor Is Opposing High Right of Way Allowance

Orange county's flood control project, based on the Elliott plan and requiring a $6,620,000 bond issue, will go before the voters Dec. 19 for a second time. The bonds were voted down at the first election, held Oct. 4.

The board of supervisors late yesterday adopted the Elliott plan in its entirety, the project to be constructed if voters approve the bond issue, and set Dec. 19 as the date for the election. The bonds were defeated when presented as a county flood control district proposal, and will be re-submitted as a county issue.

1 Per Cent Interest Rate
The issue to be voted on this time will have a maximum interest rate of 4 per cent as compared to the 6 per cent maximum specified on the issue which the voters did not approve in October. Dec. 19 was the last date on which the election could be held to enable Orange county to retain the federal grant of $6,574,000 now earmarked for the project until Dec. 20.

While all members of the board concurred in adoption of the Elliott plan, Supervisor N. E. West of the Fifth district voted against calling the election on the grounds that the $3,400,000 allowed for rights-of-way is too much. In a statement to the board he said that not more than $1,500,000 should be allowed for this purpose.

PHIL STANTON HALTED WAR Recalls Peace Making Role

By ROCH BRADSHAW
Phil Stanton, peace maker. I did not know until yesterday afternoon that State Highway Commissioner Stanton had averted a war between the United States and Japan. Considering all the political battles he has been through as speaker of the assembly, Republican national committee member and candidate for governor, it was interesting to learn that he had filled another role, too, that of peace maker.

About a year ago the papers were full of news about Mr. Stanton. He was taken ill suddenly, and for several months he waged a battle for his life. And so yesterday I went out to his ranch home near Anaheim to see how he was getting along.

While I waited downstairs in his library I glanced over some of the photographs on the wall—auto-graphed pictures of Warren G. Harding, Herbert Hoover, William Howard Taft and others. There was a somewhat battered gavel, too. Probably the one Mr. Stanton used when he was speaker of the California assembly.

When I entered his room upstairs, the first thing I saw was a cheery fire on the hearth across the floor. Then Mr. Stanton greeted me from his bed. He shook hands and I sat down. He smoked a cigar as we talked, but as he grew more interested in his story, it went out.

"I'm going to have an anniversary next week," he remarked with a patient smile. "It was the day I waited downstairs in his library I glanced over some of the photographs on the wall—auto-graphed pictures of Warren G. Harding, Herbert Hoover, William Howard Taft and others. ### Book Closed For Election Registration

The short time remaining in which to hold the $6,620,000 flood control bond election, if the federal grant of $6,574,000 is to be retained for Orange county, has created an unusual situation in election history here, according to County Clerk J. M. Backs.

With the election called for Dec. 19, the voters' register was closed for the election on Nov. 9, or 10 days before the call was issued. Under the law, registration books are closed 40 days prior to an election. Voters who have registered since that time will be ineligible to vote.

Mr. Backs announced there will be 132 voting precincts for the forthcoming election, 16 more than were necessary when the bonds were voted on Oct. 4.

He explained this by saying that with the election called this time by the county instead of the flood control district, only precincts in incorporated territory may be consolidated. All residents of unincorporated areas will vote at their regular polling places.

YOUNG PILOT IS MISSING

Widespread Search Is Started for Frank Kurtz in Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 20. (AP)—Frank Kurtz, of Los Angeles, widely known young pilot and recent record-seeker, was the object of a spectacular air search west of Cheyenne today after he had been reported for nearly 24 hours in the treacherous mountain country stretching toward Utah.

Kurtz was still unreported at noon shortly after a field mechanic had established the missing plane was that of the young pilot.

Kurtz took off from here about 3:30 p. m. yesterday planning to spend the night at Rock Springs, Wyo., about 260 miles distant. He failed to arrive and was unreported at any of the emergency fields of the coast-to-coast commercial airline traversing that route.

SENTENCED FOR KIDNAP HOAX

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20. (AP)—Thomas Watkins, 28, former prizefighter, was sentenced today to serve 30 days in jail after he had confessed to perpetrating a kidnapping hoax on Victor Jory, motion picture actor.

Watkins admitted that he telephoned Jory, telling him he had evidence of a kidnapping plot against the actor's 5-year-old daughter, Jean, when in reality he knew of no such plot. Watkins said he hoped to get a job through Jory by making the actor believe he had saved his daughter from harm.

2 PROPOSALS ON BUILDING BALLOTS

One for Completion of High Program; Other Is Lathrop Work

COST TO BE $323,000

Board of Education to Seek WPA Grant on Construction

Santa Ana will vote again Dec. 12 on the proposition to complete the high school building program and to erect an auditorium at the Julia Lathrop Junior high school. This is essentially the same project that was defeated Sept. 25, but the new one will be somewhat different. It will total $323,000 instead of $180,000 as it was at the former election.

The high school rehabilitation project and the Lathrop auditorium will be separate issues on the ballot. One may carry and one may lose. And the proposed bond issue is large enough to complete the work without a federal grant. The sum of $223,000 is proposed for the high school, and $100,000 for the auditorium.

Called Last Night

When the board of education called the election last night, it was explained that board members have lost faith to some extent in the possibility of obtaining a federal grant. Ridley Smith, board member, said the board does not want to take a chance on the government failing to make the grant. At the last election a Public Works administration grant of $148,000 was requested but is still pending. A works progress grant will now be sought, board members said.

Dr. Baker's Motion

The motion calling for the bond election, as made by Dr. Margaret Baker, follows: "In view of the large number of petitions we have received, and in view of the fact that we as board members feel the need of completing our building program, I move that we call a (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

NUMBER 20,000 GIVEN SHEARER

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20. (AP)—William B. Shearer today is Convict No. 20,000, in grim Folsom prison.

The 74-year-old man, who rose from a suit salesman to be a prosperous Yreka merchant, later a state assemblyman and senator and for 13 years the trusted cashier of the state treasury, walked through the great, gray steel gates of the prison yesterday.

A few hours before in superior court he had pleaded guilty to the theft of $24,000 from the treasury, assumed entire responsibility and asked to be sent to Folsom so he could be near his friends.

Americans Pessimistic Over New Philippine Government

Undersurface threats against the stability of the new commonwealth government of the Philippines are causing qualms in Manila. Much of the explosive force revolves around the two men whom Manuel Quezon defeated for the presidency, Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, erstwhile insurrectionist (right), and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, head of an independent Catholic sect.

MANILA, Nov. 20. (AP)—The Filipino leaders are confident they will make a success of the Philippine commonwealth government established Nov. 15, whatever the outlook for complete independence. "The odds are heavily against the new government," a high American official said privately. "But there still is a chance for success."

Disorder Threats Seen
"Every surface augury is favorable. The budget is balanced, and right at the outset of the new regime there is a $12,500,000 windfall from the United States, representing nine months proceeds of the 1934 American excise tax on Philippine coconut oil. This is about half the insular government's annual budget."

"Everybody who knows the real situation is worried over the possibility of violence from extremist followers of General Emilio Aguinaldo because of their belief they were defrauded in the Sept. 17 election," he said earnestly.

Anti-Quezon Plots Found
"We know there have been one or more actual plots already to assassinate President-elect Manuel Quezon."

"Aguinaldo and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay polled a third as many votes as Quezon in an election shot through with frauds, yet they have not a single voice in the national assembly of 98 members."

Ethiopians Marching to Attack Italians After 1000 Are Killed

INVADERS REPULSED

Fascist Advance Halted by Best Native Army; Blacks Sieze Tanks

By the Associated Press

Ethiopian warriors were reported marching to attack the Italian northern front between Dolo and Makale today, after a sharp battle on the southern front had caused casualties reported at more than 450 on both sides.

The Italian headquarters at Asmara received word that a strong column of Haile Selassie's soldiers was advancing toward Selcote, eight miles below Makale, into territory in which the Italians had been consolidating their position.

450 Casualties
Unofficial dispatches reaching Harar, in Eastern Ethiopia, said more than 150 native Somali troops were killed or wounded on the Italian side in a battle in the South, while Ethiopian casualties were unofficially put at more than 300.

These reports said some Italian officers, leading a convoy of Italian trucks which were ambushed by the Ethiopians, were wounded but escaped.

Ethiopian Seize Trucks
The encounter was said to have occurred south of Sasa Banah, 150 miles southeast of Harar, on the left bank of the Fafan river. It was reported the Ethiopians seized 53 trucks.

Premier Mussolini of Italy called together the leaders of the nation's fruit and vegetable growers' syndicate to plan increased production of their products, as part of his program to increase national production in opposition to League of Nations sanctions which were started Monday.

ETHIOPIANS REPULSE ITALIAN ADVANCE

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 20. (AP)—Fittauri (commander) Bakala Ayala, commanding 1000 of Ethiopia's best marksmen today successfully halted an Italian advance on the Radowa hills, inflicting heavy losses, it was reliably reported here.

Bakala Ayala, formerly Emperor Haile Selassie's chief huntsman, was ordered several weeks ago to hold an important pass in the hills at all costs.

Government officials here pointed out that no counterattacks are permitted yet by orders of the emperor.

Wait for December

These officials also stated that the Ethiopian armies are delay major operations until December. November is described as the worst month for fever in Oga. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Doctor Admits 'Mercy Killing' Of Horribly Wounded Patient

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 20. (AP)—Dr. A. M. Warriner's quoted story that he committed a "mercy killing" 48 years ago in North Brookfield, Mass., split his colleagues today into two camps.

An interview in the Bridgeport Post said the 80-year-old doctor deliberately had given an overdose of a pain-relieving drug to a man hopelessly wounded by buckshot. It brought declarations of approval and disapproval of such acts.

Dr. C. S. Conklin, president of the Bridgeport Medical association and City Health Officer Richard O'Shea said they were opposed to a physician taking the life of a patient, but opinions partly supporting "mercy killings" were offered by Dr. Upton S. Reich and Dr. H. E. Waterhouse.

Judges View 'Ecstasy' to Pass On Ban

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—Three black-robed judges turned the United States circuit court of appeals into a motion picture theater today to view "Ecstasy," a Czechoslovakian film that the federal government charges is "obscene, indecent, immoral and impure."

The court ordered the picture shown that they might review the appeal of Eureka Productions, importers of the film, from a verdict of a federal jury upholding the government's action in prohibiting its importation.

"Ecstasy" stars Hedy Keiser, whom Max Reinhardt described as the most beautiful actress in Europe. She is the wife of Fritz Mandell, wealthy Austrian manufacturer of munitions, who is said to have spent more than a million marks in buying and destroying negatives of "Ecstasy" so his wife may not be seen in what the prosecution's case alleges are nude and indecent exposures.

DEATH TAKES JELlicoe

British Admiral Led Fleet in Battle of Jutland

LONDON, Nov. 20. (AP)—Lord Jellicoe, British admiral and an outstanding British naval officer in the World war, died today.

Death came to the admiral in his 76th year. He was born Dec. 5, 1859. Lord Jellicoe rose to his greatest fame as commander of the biggest fleet ever concentrated in the history of the world at the Battle of Jutland in 1916.

The immediate cause of Lord Jellicoe's death was illness he contracted Nov. 11 during the Armistice day ceremony at the Cenotaph.

HALT WHITNEY CASE

Taking of Testimony in Recorder Trial Is Adjourned

The grand jury's investigation of the county recorder's office threatened today to become a sweeping, super-complete probe of all county offices. Reports today said sentiment among members of the grand jury favored such an investigation as a result of disclosures which called the probe in the office of Miss Justine Whitney, recorder.

The grand jury each year investigates each county office, but the situation this year is reported to have made the inquirers more anxious than usual to study every phase of county business.

All Welcome Probe
Elective officers contacted today unanimously said they would welcome an investigation.

"I think it would be a good thing," said County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson. "The people would be better satisfied if such an investigation were made."

Other officers expressed similar sentiments.

Recess on Testimony
In the meantime the grand jury today had called a temporary halt in the taking of testimony in the case of Miss Whitney, who failed to file her October report until Monday, although it was due on Nov. 5. The grand jury's auditors are still going over records in her office, delving into past years as well as this one.

District Attorney W. F. Menton, who also has been investigating the matter, said today that no evidence except that of failure to file the report on time has so far been disclosed. Mr. Menton said he had found "no explanation for the delay except the fact that there was a delay" and that he money supposed to have been turned over to the treasurer was not on hand until Monday, when Miss Whitney turned over $2955.

A little later a dude from the northern part of the state come in and he was on his car because it took him 283 minutes to drive 325 miles.

I told 'em they didn't want roads at all, what they wanted was airplanes. We probably got too many governors now but I'm in favor of one for every car.

NORTH CHINA AUTONOMY ATTRIBUTED TO FOREIGN MONEY POLICIES

JAPAN GIVEN ASSURANCE OF PEACE

Nanking Troops Won't Interfere, Declares High Spokesman

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) TOKYO, Nov. 20.—The campaign for political independence of North China from the Nanking government was attributed in part by a Japanese foreign office source today to American and British currency policies.

A summary of Japan's position, issued by this source, said the United States' silver purchase policy, intensifying China's economic troubles, and Britain's support of Nanking currency reform were among the factors "stimulating the spontaneous popular movement for autonomy of North China."

The question of application of the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing China's sovereignty and territorial integrity, this summary set forth, could not arise in connection with North China's independence movement because the new regime would not affect China's territorial status.

JAPAN ASSURED OF 'NO APPREHENSION'
NANKING, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Ambassador Akira Ariyoshi of Japan told the Associated Press today: "Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek (Chinese national leader) has given me his solemn assurance that Japan has no cause for apprehension regarding North China."

The Japanese diplomat made this statement after a two and one-half hour interview with the Chinese leader.

Ariyoshi said Chiang told him there would be no outward events in the north (apparently referring to Japanese military action) that Nanking troops would try to check the North China autonomy program.

Ambassador Ariyoshi added that the whole range of Sino-Japanese relations had been reviewed and said that his role was that of questioner and that he had given no assurances on Japan's behalf.

The restraining influence of an American governor general and auditor, removed from local political pressure because they were responsible only to the President of the United States, will be gone."

"It was the governor general's pruning knife that kept the budget balanced all these years. There is not a single Filipino business man of the first order. Every major enterprise is in the hands of Americans or foreigners. How can you have a successful nation without business men?"

den province, especially this year because of seasonable rains. These rains are also said by the Ethiopians to have claimed many Italian lives.

Wolde Giorgis, the officer commanding the Ethiopian troops which, according to a communiqué, captured six Italian tanks and killed six Italian officers at Anale Nov. 12, arrived in the capital today to make his report.

Don't Fear Tanks
"We do not fear tanks," he told the Associated Press. "Once we are near them they are lost. We captured the tanks at Anale by defeating the infantry, thus cutting them off."

"We poured gasoline over the tanks and set the fuel afire, the heat forcing the occupants to surrender, but no prisoners were taken. Many of the tanks are useless because of the rains."

Dispatches received here from Harar said Emperor Haile Selassie had passed through that city in an automobile proceeding in the direction of Direwawa.

second election for Dec. 12—that we ask for the same amount in our high school rehabilitation, $223,000, and $100,000 for a Lathrop auditorium, and submit this proposition to the people as separate issues.

The motion was seconded by M. B. Youel and unanimously passed on a roll call vote.

'Need New Buildings'
"We absolutely must have new buildings at our high school, and get the children out of the tents as soon as possible," Mr. Smith said. "We are going to make application to the Works Progress administration for a grant. However, from past experience with such applications, we are not sure that the grant will be made. Consequently, we do not want to take any chances. If the government does make a grant, then the amount of the grant will be deducted from the amount of bonds to be sold."

Howard Hess, chief assistant in the firm of Allison and Allison, architects for the high school plant, informed board members last night that the amount of the grant made by the government depended entirely upon the number of man-years of labor the project would provide.

May Grant $5 Per Cent
"The only thing the government is interested in," Mr. Hess said, "is how many men the project will provide labor for. The government is not particularly interested in the project itself. The grant may be as high as 5 per cent of the total cost of construction and if that is the case, then only 55 per cent of your bonds will have to be sold. One serious factor which will not doubt play a large part in the government's final action in the case, is the fact that there are very few unemployed skilled laborers in Santa Ana. The more there are to put to work, the more money the government will grant."

George Wells, chairman of the board, said, "We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by asking for the total amount necessary for the completion of our program. If the bonds carry, and I see no reason why they should not, we will be able to start work by Feb. 1. It may take the government a month or more to make up its mind about a grant, and in the meantime, we can go right ahead with our construction work. We will sell the bonds only as needed, keeping in mind the fact that the government may later make us a grant from WPA funds."

Start Work Feb. 1
According to present plans, the board would advertise for bids immediately after the election if the bonds carry. The bids would be returnable by the middle of January, and work on the building to replace the present science building could be started by Feb. 1. Work on the other two buildings, a class room and a shop building, would commence about the first of March.

J. E. Allison, architect, told the board last night that so far as he knew, estimates concerning the cost of construction as presented to the first election would hold good in the present case. In answer to a question concerning the advisability of filing another application for a government grant, Mr. Allison said the filing of the application alone would cost approximately $1200. He offered to do the detail work on the application at cost, and was instructed by the board to prepare the necessary papers.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, school board advisor, instructed to draw up a resolution establishing the number of precincts to be used in the next election, and including in the resolution all other necessary details. As the result of a motion by Rolla Hays, he was instructed to call for 74 precincts. Three of the precincts, although outside of the city limits, are in the high school district.

Offer Free Help
As the result of a generous offer made by the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher association, the board will be saved several hundred dollars. Last night, Mrs. Rufus Bond, head of the Lathrop P.T.A., and Mrs. Neal Beisel, head of the Junior College Patrons' association, assured board members that members of the P.T.A. would gladly work gratis as election officials.

Deputy District Attorney Turner told the board that so far as he knows, there is nothing to prevent persons acting as election officials without compensation if members of the P.T.A. are officially appointed election officials.

that great savings in the matter of securing rights-of-way are possible, outlined anticipated savings amounting to $1,033,000, and told why no change was made in the amount of the bond issue to be voted on.

The statement declared that the board "is now convinced that in view of representation heretofore made to federal agencies, which representations have resulted in the allocation of a grant of federal funds in the amount of $6,574,000 and in the fixing by these same federal agencies of the sum of $6,620,000 as the sponsor's contribution," that it would be acting in bad faith, with respect to the federal government if it should call a bond election for a sum lesser in amount than the sum above noted as having been determined by these federal agencies."

The statements of Mr. West and the majority members of the board are published on Page 9 of today's Journal.

Smith Tells Stand
Supervisor Willard Smith today elaborated on the board's position in calling the election for $6,620,000 in the face of reports that rights-of-way necessary to the project could be obtained for less money than was estimated in the 1928 appraisal.

He said that while this is likely, in view of the fact that rights-of-way to considerable territory, particularly in the vicinity of the proposed Prado dam, must be assured the government before federal money is turned over and work started, the possession of the entire $6,620,000 bond issue is the only guarantee the county can offer.

$1,620,000 for Reserve
"When work starts on Prado dam," he said, "the county must be in technical possession of the land necessary to the project. It is not expected that the county will have actual title to the property at that time, but we will have to either have the property under negotiation or funds posted for payment under condemnation proceedings. That is the only terms under which federal aid will be available. If the county has not posted sufficient funds to guarantee the property, federal officials probably would assume that they are not available and be justified in withdrawing support."

"The people of Orange county can be assured that not one unnecessary cent will be expended. It is planned to sell only $5,000,000 worth of bonds at the beginning. That will be sufficient to start the work. Other bonds will be sold when necessary. If they are not sold they will be cancelled, and in any event interest will not start on the reserve bonds until they are actually sold. By holding $1,620,000 in reserve, the county will be in a position to make good on its promise to the federal government."

Other Plan Submitted
The Elliott plan was adopted by the supervisors yesterday after a long conference with A. Kempey, member of the consulting board of engineers, and County Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson. John Ackerman, representing the Associated Water Users of Orange County, opponents of the bond issue in the previous campaign, and publicity agent for that organization before the election, appeared before the supervisors and offered the Finkle-Browning modified flood control plan as an alternative to the one adopted.

The plan was received by the supervisors after Mr. Ackerman had been turned down as inadequate by United States army engineers who will have charge of all construction work on the project. Mr. Mitchell informed Mr. Ackerman that the modified plan would not be submitted for consideration in view of its disapproval by government engineers.

PRINTING CENTENAL
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The 100th anniversary of printing in Kansas slipped by this year without ceremony. The first newspaper, founded in 1835 by Jotham Meeker, was the Shawnee Sun, an Indian language periodical, believed the first in the United States.

MORE ABOUT WHITNEY

torney was already under way at the time Mr. West made his letter public.

County Auditor W. T. Lambert was another witness called yesterday. Miss Whitney, he told newspapers yesterday, is now in compliance with all requirements of his office.

Others 'Have Complied'
Mr. Lambert was informed of the report that the grand jury is considering an unusually thorough investigation of all offices and said he would welcome it. When asked if all other county offices were in compliance with legal requirements governing his office, he said his records show that they are.

Tax Collector John Lamb, when informed of the grand jury's idea of a sweeping investigation, said his office is always open to such inspections and that the more thorough they are the better. At the office of County Assessor James Sleeper it was reported that such a probe is always welcomed. Auditors "already have gone through most of the records there."

Backs Welcomes It
County Clerk J. M. Backs said he would be glad to have such an investigation and that if the grand jury can recommend any changes or improvements that carry out the requirements of the law he will be glad to receive them.

At the sheriff's office the news was greeted with the reply, by Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean, that "the deeper they go the better." Sheriff Jackson was in Los Angeles today.

District Attorney Menton said he would be glad to have the grand jury conduct such an investigation of his office.

MORE ABOUT CANTANDO

were musically arranged by his accompanist, Natta Paullyn Garner, to whom the club presented a sheaf of flowers. Mr. Garner gave a humorous touch to his program with his "Little David, Play on Your Harp" and "Who'll Be a Witness for My Lord?" He received much applause and sang several encores.

"Fireflies" (Dole), quick, brief number, and "The Sleigh" (Kountz-Baldwin) were especially well executed in the second group of Cantando. Valeska Porter of Fullerton played a violin obligato for "Orientele" (Cesar Gui). The Heidelberg "Stein Song" and "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" from "Naughty Marietta" offered contrast and were excellently sung by the men.

Other Numbers
Outstanding in the last group was "Tally-Ho," lusty song of the hunt, with underlying pathos. R. J. Park and C. H. Schuyler sang solo parts in the second group. The final number, "I Have a Rendezvous with Life" (Thayer).

FRUIT SALES BOOST SEEN

Exchange Official Says Canada Trade Pact to Bring Big Increase

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—(AP)—F. W. Read, manager of the standardization department of the California Fruit exchange, predicted today that annual sales of California fruits to Canada would increase from 10 to 15 million dollars under the newly-signed trade agreement with the United States.

He pointed out that the general level of duties on California fresh fruits will be cut from 20 to 25 per cent, a 20 per cent cut on canned fruits and 5 per cent on dried fruits.

Under the pact, he said, oranges, lemons and avocados will be on the free list for four months each year. Duties on fresh grapes will be cut 25 per cent, nuts 50 per cent, shelled almonds and walnuts 25 per cent and fresh apples 25 per cent.

"How anyone can state that these tariff reductions can do anything but aid California agriculture is beyond imagination," said Read.

HOOVER RAIPS TRADE TREATY

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover issued a statement Tuesday lambasting the new reciprocal trade treaty with Canada, declaring it "brings hardship to hundreds of thousands of dairy and other farmers."

SEEK BAND FOR ROSE PARADE

Action which may lead to Santa Ana entering a band in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade Jan. 1 was under way today. The board of directors of the chamber of commerce, meeting Monday, agreed to recommend to the city that Santa Ana place a band in the parade.

The matter was referred to a committee headed by Herbert L. Miller. Other members of Mr. Miller's committee are Rex Kennedy and W. E. Baker.

Santa Ana entered a band in the Armistice day parade at Anaheim. The chamber of commerce, in taking its action Monday, followed a policy adopted several weeks ago of favoring this city's participation in events of this kind in other communities.

GUN-TOTERS OF CHICAGO MOSTLY OUT-OF-TOWNERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(AP)—It's the visiting gunman—not the native son—that gives Chicago police their greatest worry in warring against illegal firearms.

The detective bureau announces that approximately two-thirds of those arrested for illegal gun carrying during the first 10 months of the current year came to Chicago from other cities and towns.

Arrests for the period totaled 755, of whom only 254 were born in Chicago. Police took 805 guns from those arrested and discovered that 20 were wanted for murder, 164 for robbery, 115 for assault, 136 for manslaughter, 23 for burglary, 15 for larceny, one for extortion, and six for statutory charges.

During the first ten months of 1934 police nabbed 957 gun toters and seized 1,101 weapons.

O'Hara was applauded until the singers repeated the climax. The violinist also received flowers.

Miss Ruth Armstrong, club accompanist, who wore a classic gold satin gown, was heartily applauded and received a large floral basket from the club.

School Absences Due to Colds Are Cut Almost Half

Better Colds-Control Shown in Clinical Tests Among 5,118 School Children

Important news for mothers and teachers comes from Vicks Chemicals as one result of their 30 years' specialized study of colds. In clinical tests among 5,118 school children, nearly half (40.20%) of the time ordinarily lost from school because of colds was saved by followers of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds.

This is only one of the impressive findings from three series of clinical tests of the Plan, conducted over a three-year period, among 14,792 people—including both adults and children. Gratifying results were indicated in fewer, shorter and milder colds for followers of the Plan.

To help reduce children's absences from school on account of colds, mothers in Santa Ana are being given complete details of Vicks Plan, and trial packages of its specialized aids to better home control of colds.

You will also find the Plan fully explained in each package of Vicks Vapo-nol—first aid in preventing many colds—and Vicks Vapo-Rin—the mother's standby in relieving colds. (Adv.)

ROTARY HEARS TRAVEL TALK

Members of the Santa Ana Rotary club were entertained Tuesday by Miss Imogene Warder, former student at the University of California, who for two and one-half years "gypsyed" with a girl companion through Europe and Africa. Her address was filled with tales of experiences in Ireland, where she and her companion traveled from one end of the island to the other by bicycle, and of many other experiences in far away countries.

While in Africa, Miss Warder said, she and her companion had the opportunity to visit a harem. The wives of the sheik were happy and apparently satisfied with their existence, she said.

Later, the pair went to Italy, where they encountered soldiers on every hand. One of their most exciting experiences took place when Miss Warder and her friend hiked to the St. Bernard monastery, high in the Italian Alps.

The program chairman was Calvin Flint, dean of men at Santa Ana Junior college. Mr. Flint has spent many years in travel through Europe.

A guest of the Rotary club yesterday was Harry F. Petersmyer, a newcomer to Santa Ana, who is now affiliated with the Excelsior Creamery company.

$600,000 TAXES CANCELLED

Because of a difference of opinion interpreting the law governing return of public utility properties to the county tax roll, approximately $600,000 worth of assessment cancellations faces the county, it was revealed by the board of supervisors yesterday.

The property for which cancellations must be granted by the county on grounds of double assessment is inter-county pipelines owned by the Standard Oil, Union Oil, General Petroleum, Shell, Associated and Wilshire oil companies, Industrial Fuel Corporation and the California Domestic Water Company.

County Assessor James Sleeper said that, while the assessments will have to be cancelled from the county tax rolls, the money will not be lost as it will be collected on the public utility roll, prepared by the state board of equalization and turned over to Tax Collector John Lamb.

He said that at the time public utility properties were returned to the counties for tax purposes, there was considerable misunderstanding as to the method of assessing and the property was included on the county roll certified to County Auditor William Lambert. Later the state board of equalization certified its rolls to the auditor and the property was included in the list.

F.D.R. PLEDGES NO STARVING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Federal aid for the unemployed whenever it is necessary to prevent starvation was promised yesterday by President Roosevelt.

The President affirmed this policy in response to inquiries at his regular press conference. Mayors of several cities had asserted here earlier this week that local governments could not assume the full burden of direct relief on Dec. 1.

CHICKASAWS USED 'SWEET SALT'

PONTOTOC, Okla., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Salt, known as "hoppi," was in use by the Chickasaw Indians long before the coming of the white man, but sugar, offered them in trade, was a distinct novelty.

"Hoppi chumpully," said an enterprising Indian who dipped his fingers in the sugar barrel—"sweet salt."

Chickasaws call sugar that to this day.

80 HEAR TALK ON PARENTS

Before a joint meeting of more than 80 Spurgeon and Lowell Parent-Teacher association members, Dr. Bessie A. McClenahan addressed the group on "Preparing the Parent for Adolescence" yesterday afternoon at the Spurgeon school.

Professor of sociology at the University of Southern California and long a social welfare worker, Dr. McClenahan drew up her actual observation and experiences with boys and girls for her advice.

"More than anything else, the teen age boy or girl needs a confident," said the speaker. "The problems that surround 'growing up' can only be surmounted when a mother and child have a close relationship."

Urges Understanding
The speaker advised the mothers to look back into their own experiences of that age to try to understand their children.

Dr. McClenahan had been brought as one of parent-education lecture speakers, sponsored under Mrs. Yula Moore of the adult education department. She was introduced by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the department.

Mrs. John J. Mills, president of the City Council of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Moore, and Mrs. Weston were honored guests of the meeting.

Mrs. Lorraine Croddy Graves directed the singers and Mrs. Ralph Watson accompanied.

RELIEF SURVEY HERE ASKED

The board of supervisors yesterday took the first step toward integration of federal, state and county relief work in Orange county. They ordered County Clerk J. M. Backs to write a letter to Frank Y. McLaughlin asking that a study of the local situation be made.

Centralization of all relief work and expenditure of state and federal relief funds for administration by county officials has been sponsored by the relief committee of the California Supervisors' association. Yesterday John C. Henderson, acting field representative for the state relief administration, told the supervisors his department is ready to make the preliminary study of conditions in this county.

The survey, he said, will not be made until the supervisors notify the SERA that they favor the idea and request the cooperation of that agency.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

THERE seems to be something about fishing licenses and water that creates conversation.

The Coast association considered both subjects last night, and so there was lots and lots of talk.

But we learned lots of things, especially about the fishing business.

Carl Johnson, president of the California Fish and Game Development association, and John P. Cassidy, director of public relations, were at the meeting and told us just what the license business means and the whys and wherefores of it all.

The much discussed $2 license for ocean fishermen is a law, according to those two, and they know what they're talking about. It'll cover everything but pier fishing. . . mackerel and halibut and such fish caught from piers will be exempt, but anglers on live-bait boats must pay their fee next year. Surf fishermen also fall in the latter class, but the general opinion seemed to be that no effort will be made to enforce that part of the law.

MR. JOHNSON told us that issuance of licenses for fish reduction plants, which he says cause terrible damage to bait fish, is in the hands of the fish and game commission. More than 500,000 tons of sardines were reduced to fertilizer during the past year, he said, and experts estimated that 250,000 tons was all that could be removed without damaging fishing.

He also told about the outside floating reduction plants, which aren't affected by state laws. Local organizations, like the coast group must aid in controlling these plants or the fish will soon be extinct, he said.

The floating plants are large, sea-going factories which reduce the sardines to fertilizer while beyond the three-mile limit. Two of the ships operating from San Francisco during the past season made $500,000, he said, and others will attempt to start into business next year unless steps are taken to stop them.

CHRISTMAS was in the air at the coast meeting last night. The annual party at Seal Beach was announced for Dec. 17 and from what members of the committee reported, it's going to be an evening packed with fun.

Somebody's going to be Santa Claus, and everyone's to bring a cheap present. We sneaked a look at sample decorations for the tables, and from what we saw, it'll be worth the trip to Seal Beach just to see the tables.

And then Dr. Huston's Christmas lighting plan was brought up for discussion. With everyone so enthusiastic and predictions made for the most beautiful "40 miles of smiles" in the history of the plan.

Keen rivalry between communities was indicated, with Will Gallienne of Huntington Beach threatening to retain first place in the judging with their plans for the beach town. Maybe they're going to hang candles and candy canes from all the oil derricks. . . might not be a bad idea.

This year the "dark spots" between communities will be decorated by the towns on either side, which will appear considerably to beauty of the highways. We don't think that members were enthusiastic enough when they estimated that thousands will tour the coast to see the beautiful sights. . . there'll be hordes.

WHAT'S this we hear about a fox hunt Sunday at Costa Mesa?

Residents have hinted about a mysterious stranger with a club hunting a silver fox. We'd like to know more.

Seems like there was a fox, because neighbors saw him. They also saw the stranger, and knew that he was hunting the animal, but no one saw him run the beast to earth.

The story'll come out sometime, perhaps. We're only glad it wasn't a bear.

NOTES TO YOU: Conversation with J. K. McDonald, Huntington Beacher. Oil wells and fishing and feature stories and all sorts of things. . . Tom Talbot, makes a fine welcome. . . Sam Meyer, Newport, a far coat. . . Elmer Crawford, Laguna, talking about water and bond issues. . . Leslie Kimmel, also Laguna, interested in fishing and by-laws. . . David T. Preston, Dana Point. He didn't make a speech. . . We forgot to thank Mr. McDonald for "chiseling" a second piece of pie for us. . . City Clerk Charles Furr, Huntington Beach, who had to leave the meeting and adjourn the city council. . . Judge C. P. Patton should get a job welcoming new members to organizations. He did a fine job. . . Ray Overacker, attorney, talking oil drilling. . . Huntington Beach should obtain a patent on their sunsets. . . they're very superior.

Although the production of food crops and cattle is increasing in North Carolina, the breeding of horses is falling behind.

COAST GROUP INDORSES SECOND WATER BOND ELECTION

TAKE ACTION AT BEACH SESSION

New Patrol Boat to Visit H. B. Tomorrow; Plan Christmas Fete

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Members of the Orange County Coast association indorsed passage of bonds for the county's proposed flood control and water conservation project at a meeting held in the Golden Bear cafe here last night. The bond election yesterday was set by the board of supervisors for Dec. 19.

Judge C. P. Patton, Huntington Beach, told members that his community "is for the plan stronger than before," in presenting a motion for indorsement. J. P. Greeley, Balboa, offered a second to the motion.

Elmer Crawford, Laguna Beach; Ross Shaffer, Tustin, and T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach, all spoke in favor of the plan.

Boat Due Tomorrow
Mr. Talbert announced that the state fish and game commission patrol boat "Broadbill" will visit Huntington Beach tomorrow, beginning at noon, and extended an invitation to all interested to inspect the new speedboat. A luncheon will be given for members of the state commission, who plan to arrive on the craft, at noon, he said.

Later, the patrol boat, which will be stationed permanently at Newport harbor, will travel there, and will be met by other delegations of county citizens during the afternoon, it was announced.

Plans for the most elaborate Christmas lighting display in the history of the Coast association were announced by Dr. C. G. Huston and members of the lighting committee, which each year aids in decoration of coastline cities from Long Beach to San Clemente. "Peace on Earth" will be the theme of this year's display, Dr. Huston said. Individual communities will be responsible for decorations, and will also care for "dark spots" between towns, it was decided.

Johnson Is Speaker
Carl F. Johnson, president of the California Fish and Game Development association, was speaker at the meeting, explaining work of his association and legislative matters of interest to the coast group. He stressed the need of united action of all conservation groups in legislative matters.

The present fishing reserve bill, which protects fish on the county coastline, is not permanent, and must be protected in the legislature by concerted action, he said. Conservation of ocean fishing has outgrown any smaller organization, and must be forwarded by groups over the entire state, he said.

John P. Cassidy, director of public relations of the state group, told of operation of the organization and urged that the Coast association cooperate in conservation work. Both speakers were introduced by Leslie Kimmel of Laguna Beach.

Annual Party Planned
Dec. 17 was set as the date for the annual Christmas party of the coast group, and plans told by Mrs. Elmer Crawford, Mrs. Sam Meyer and Mrs. K. P. Frederick. The meeting will be held at Seal Beach, and early reservations were urged by the committee.

Changes in by-laws regarding resolutions, change of the annual business meeting date from December to January and formation of an executive committee were adopted.

Mayor T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach welcomed members at the opening of the meeting.

LIMA BEAN CROP SHORT

County Harvest Under Way

GARDEN GROVE.—With the Orange county lima bean crop 52,000 bags shorter this year than in 1934, an additional 5 per cent is being lost to the grower in cleaning of beans for market. N. W. Barry, county field representative of the California Lima Bean Growers' association, said today.

In 1934 Orange county produced 335,000 bags of beans while this year only 283,000 bags have been harvested, he said. Hot weather during the summer was blamed for the short crop, as well as for the 15 per cent cleanout, which in other years usually runs 10 per cent. Although there was very little worm damage, many blistered and immature beans are being removed in the cleaning process.

The crop shortage throughout the state, the only place where lima beans are grown, Mr. Barry said, was 115,000 bags, the crop being estimated this year at 935,000 bags against 1,050,000 bags in 1934.

Cleaning of the county-grown beans is now in progress at five houses located at Garden Grove, Smeltzer, Irvine, Greenville and Costa Mesa. It is expected all houses will have completed cleaning the beans by the first of January, although some will finish next month.

The market price is now better than at the opening of the season. Mr. Barry said, the association price now being $6 per hundred pounds in the car and $6.10 on board ship, while at the opening the price was $5.15.

BANKERS MUST BE COLD!

Vaults Used To Freeze Meat

SEAL BEACH.—A big real estate deal is news at any time, but when a bank building is sold and the vaults used as a cold storage room for meat, it is not only news but substantiates old-time ideas of frigidity of bankers, local residents claim.

Such a deal was completed here recently, when the California National Bank building, which was closed in 1932, was sold to Clem A.

Irvine, local grocer, and Dr. Ernest F. Greene.

Remodelling of the building will start at once, it was announced, with Mr. Irvine planning to transform the bank vaults into a cold storage room for his meat department.

He Is Bogey Man

—Or perhaps some weird being from another world. But he's really a Japanese soldier equipped with a gas mask, as he spread anti-poison powder during a gas-attack drill in Osaka. The attack was part of the annual military maneuvers staged by the army for three days.

"A rich man cannot afford to die," he said, pointing out that taxes are almost confiscatory regarding inheritance of property. He named hundreds of taxes directly affecting consumers and then told of the program of the county tax council, which he said hopes to aid in lowering expenses within a short time.

"If taxpayers wish, they can save $500,000 in costs of operating the county government," he said, adding that a program will soon be offered showing the council's recommendation for county functions. Using the same method of governmental curtailment, $50,000,000 can be saved in the state, he said.

Tuffree Speaks
S. James Tuffree, vice president of the council, said that voters were urged to support Governor Merriam at election time and were promised that taxes would not be raised. Since election there has not been a single step toward lowering of taxes by the governor's organization, he concluded.

PERSONAL OBSERVATION AND VARIOUS NOTATIONS
OUR PURELY personal opinion department:

That the western members of the Southern California junior college athletic brotherhood are spoiling all chance of the Southern division of the conference won a title honestly. Always the winning team comes up with at least one ineligible man.

This year it's our own old institution, Los Angeles Junior college, won the title but will probably be allowed to keep it because Long Beach and Glendale, next in line, also turned up some bad pennies. Ventura, so far up the coast that it has little luck projecting city stars, is next in order for the crown but will be passed up. Looks like three wrongs are making a right for the L. A. J. C. Cubs.

So much of this skulduggery goes on that little attention is given the strong teams of the western divisions because so many of the links in the various teams have been "forged" of illegal stuff.

We're happy to notice that little of that goes on in the Eastern conference.

FLOYD BLOWER TURNS INVENTOR ON GRID

SANTA ANA'S Floyd Blower, one of the big reasons why the Golden Bear eleven probably will play in the Rose Bowl, has turned inventor, according to Associated Press reports reaching our desk today.

The dispatch says the star left halfback "invented" a pair of new plays in the Berkeley triumph over Washington. The first was an improvement on St. Mary's famous "fumble play," an unintentional maneuver that has occurred in several of the Gaels' games, with the ball carrier fumbling over the goal line and permitting a teammate to pounce on the pigskin for a touchdown.

Blower pulled his play on a scoring pass. He fumbled the snaphack from center, picked the ball up calmly and shot it to a substitute who trotted over the goal line.

Playing safety deep in his own territory and seeing that a high punt was sailing over his head on about the 12-yard line, Blower signaled a fair catch. The ball rolled on to the end zone for a touchdown, and California took it on the 20-yard line instead of perhaps on the five, for Washington's ends, who might have downed it, slowed up instead when he signaled the fair catch.

STEELE DOWNS LEVINSKY

Kingfish Loses Mixed Battle

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20. (P)—Whether a good boxer can whip a wrestler remained unsettled today, but there was no doubt what a good wrestler can do to a hit-and-miss slugger.

It took Ray Steele, patriarch of the grappling industry, just 35 seconds in the first round of a 10-round contest last night to pin King Levinsky, the late heavyweight boxing contender.

Customers Unhappy
The bout, first "major" mixed battle in ring history, left some 12,000 cash customers discontented and both principals drew a generous round of boos at the close of the brief fracas.

The action—while it lasted—was whirlwind enough. The Kingfish, armed with the conventional six-ounce gloves, ambled from his corner at the bell and took a long-range poke at Steele's battered nose. It was a broad target, but the king missed. Steele dove under his gloves and knocked him against the ropes.

TIME OUT FOR TEETH
LAS ANIMAS, Colo. (P)—It was "time out" for teeth in the football game between the Canon City Abbey team and Las Animas High school. Gus Petros, Abbey right end, dashed toward the side line with his hand held to his mouth. The player handed something to the coach, yelled "hold my teeth!" and ran back on the field. Gus has two false teeth—the sort that screw into place.

DONS MAY PLAY STANFORD

CRIPPLED END HAS CHANCE OF PLAYING

Big Game Teams Taper Off; Special Brace Made for Star

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20. (P)—The big game squads, Stanford and California, faced their last hard licks today before tapering off processes started to give them rest and a razor sharp edge for their battle for the Pacific Coast conference football championship in the Palo Alto stadium Saturday.

Across the bay, Coach "Stub" Allison lashed his Golden Bears through a session marked by the happy news that Jack Brittingham, brilliant end who was hurt in the Washington game, might be able to play.

Crutches for Cain
Brittingham, thought hopelessly injured, exchanged his crutches for a cane and immediately Team Physician Dr. W. S. Donald set about fashioning a brace which would hold the veterans' knee in place. California could use Brittingham Saturday. The Bears' undefeated season, their first title in a decade and a bid to the Rose bowl hinge on the outcome.

Down on the field, Coach "Tiny" Thornhill's Stanford Reds continued their work on new passing plays, which Thornhill believes will settle the issue.

"The lines on both teams are too strong," he said. "The passes will decide the issue."

SEATTLE INDIANS TO WORK OUT IN SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 20. (P)—Santa Monica municipal stadium will be the site of spring training next year by the Seattle baseball club.

President Bill Klepper of the Indians had informed the city council today that he would bring a squad of 50 players here on March 1, with exhibition games arranged with the Chicago White Sox, Chicago Cubs and other teams.

lina recompense for Duke's handling Wallace Wade a new five-year contract? Duke looks at the 25 to 0 score and thinks so. Joe Louis winds up a New England barnstorming tour this week to go in training for the Uzeudon fight this winter. . . . Pressagent Bill O'Brien, who manages to keep the professional tennis gang in the news, announces that after this season Lanky Lester Stofen will lay aside the tennis racket and go in for professional boxing. . . . All who believe it please stand up. . . . King Levinsky, after losing that mixed bout to Ray Steele, will be flag pole sitting next.

The wrestler held Levinsky firmly from behind, while the Chicago ex-fish peddler fanned with a vain back-hand at the Steele kidneys. Came then the referee and separated the two.

The Kingfish let go the long right haymaker he promised before the bout would lift Steele into the aisles. It dazed the wrestler, but he remained substantially in the ring.

He Was Robbed
He ducked the follow-up left and then circled Levinsky's knees with a quick dive, toppled him to the floor and smothered the bewildered boxer with an octopus body block. For the rest, it was just a short exercise in mathematics for the referee.

Said the Kingfish, his dressing room after the bout: "I was robbed. Twice I lifted my shoulders off the floor while the referee was counting 10. Each time, according to the rules, he should have started all over again."

Sandor Szabo to Battle Wee Willie Davis on Mat

Sandor Szabo, the Hungarian mat idol, and one of the most scientific heavyweights on the mat, has been signed to meet Wee Willie Davis, giant West Virginia rougher, in a three-fall main event at the Orange County Athletic club Monday night.

With the signing of Szabo it appears as though the rough six-foot-four giant will suffer his first defeat here in more than six starts. Davis defeated Casey Kazanjian Monday night.

COURT CROWN IS NEAR FOR SCOTTIE'S

Scottie's 28, Woolen Mills, 22. Games This Week
Tonight, 7:30—Shell Oil vs. Union Oil.
Thursday, 7:30—Costa Mesa vs. Garlocks.

Scottie's a champion in the making—conquered the Woolen Mills—a champion of the past—in Commercial league basketball last night. The titular game was as close as the score indicated, 26 to 22.

A protested contest that must be re-played with Shell Oil next week is all that stands in the way of Darwin Scott's hard-to-beat outfit and the first-half pennant. This will be held while the other fives are resting during the Thanksgiving holidays prior to beginning the second half Dec. 3, Secretary Ralph Smedley said.

Center Doug Wheeler went on a scoring rampage to lead Scottie's to a whirlwind finish, after the potential champs had fallen behind, 9 to 14, at the half-time intermission.

Tom Lacy, Junior college regular, accounted for 10 points to Wheeler's 11. Both played bang-up games at forward, and Leonard Lockhart and Bob Schwarm shone at guard.

Vince McDonald, forward, and Russell (Red) Sullivan, guard, were offensive standouts for the Mills.

Joe McChesney played well at guard.

Lineups:
Scottie's (26) Pos. (22) Woolen Mills
Lacy (10) F. (2) Stephen Levens (2) F. (7) McDonald
Wheeler (11) C. (6) Wiener
Lockhart (2) G. (5) Sullivan
Schwarm (1) G. (5) McChesney

Score by Halves
Scottie's 9 17—26
Woolen Mills 14 8—22

Substitutions
Scottie's—Mills—Preble for L. Lockhart, Nissley for Schwarm.
Woolen Mills—Peterson (2) for Wiener, White for C. Peterson.

Fullback Bill Musick and Halfback Len Stafford, still shelved with leg injuries, probably will not return to action again until the first annual Coast Preparatory league sports carnival at Long Beach two weeks from Saturday.

Coach W. W. (Bill) Foote said today he did not plan to use either in Santa Ana High school's exhibition football clash at Pomona Friday afternoon.

The Saints will drill lightly next Monday and Tuesday. A five-day lay-off will follow due to the Thanksgiving holidays. Practice will be resumed on Dec. 2 for the sports carnival, in which Santa Ana will team with San Diego against Long Beach and Alhambra.

REBOIN SENDS FIRST SQUAD TO ACTION

Three Lettermen Help Local Lineup; Game Open to Public

Trojan Al Reboin makes his debut as Santa Ana Junior college's basketball coach tonight when the 1936 Dons open their training grind in a game with Vic Baden's Orange Concordians in Andrews gymnasium on the high school campus at 8 o'clock.

Those who have watched the collegians in daily drills at the Y. M. C. A. believe the Don varsity will be stronger than the five that climaxed a mediocre season with an upset victory over Fullerton's champions last winter.

Trio of Lettermen

Three returning lettermen—Tom Lacy, all-conference forward; Fred Erdhaus, center; and John Andrews, guard—have the inside track to regular positions. Erdhaus is busy with football, and probably will not report until after Thanksgiving day, although he has taken several work-outs with the casaba tossers. Bob Browning, lanky ex-Saint, or LaVern Brower, '35 reserve, will be at center tonight.

Best of the newcomers appear to be Clarence (Tay) Riggs, smooth forward from Illinois who may develop into the clever Lacy's running mate; and Leonard Lockhart, smart guard from the 1934-35 Saints. Blond Lockhart is a good shot, an alert floor man.

Russell Furer, ex-Bravely Junior college player, and Kenneth Nissley, small forward who was a dead-eye with the Saints, may press some of the others for regular positions. Reboin plans to test all of his reserves against the Orange squad.

Orange Always Strong

Concordia is a leading member of the Southern California Y. M. C. A. league. Baden's outfits usually come out on the long end of the score with the Dons, but furnish the kind of opposition they need in preparation for the Eastern conference season.

The game will be open to the public without charge.

GROGAN TO GET LOCAL TEST

Local boxing fans will be given a line on the fighting ability of the sensational Eddie Grogan of Huntington Park tomorrow night when the Irishman, boasting a kayo record of 19 in as many starts before his home town followers, meets Bill Castorena.

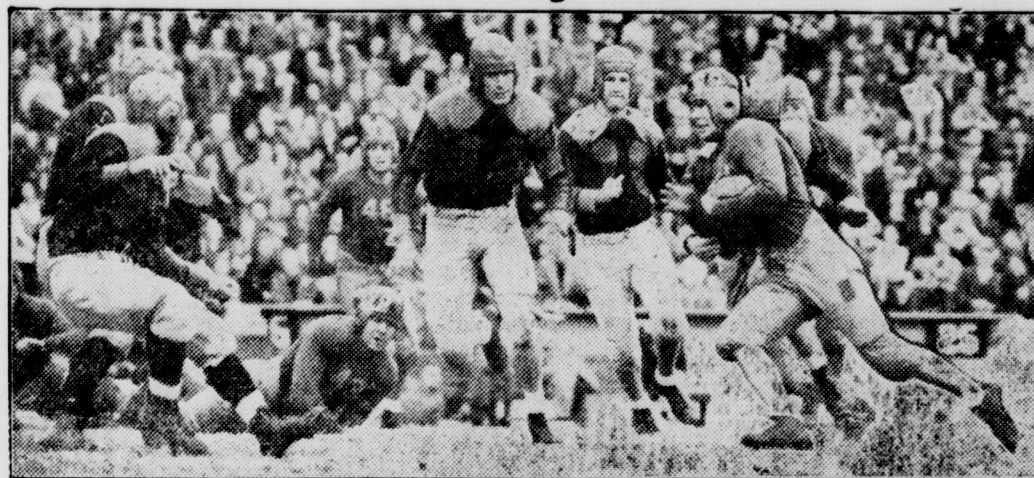

Another fight likely to have fans in an uproar is the Henry Geiturrez-Dave Garcia bantamweight scrap.

STEELE ON SHELVE
SEATTLE, Nov. 20. (P)—Fred Steele of Tacoma, a leading contender for the middleweight boxing championship, has gone on the shelf with injured hands for the remainder of this year. He bruised both mitts in defeating Young Stuhley of Chicago in a 10-round bout here last night.

STARS MAY GO TO SALT LAKE
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20. (P)—The Los Angeles Times said today that W. H. Lane, president of the Hollywood baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, was reported to be considering the transfer of the club to Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Times said that if the Stars are moved to Salt Lake the Sacramento club might be moved here to give Los Angeles continuous baseball at Wrigley Field.

30 Cardinal Players Put On Auction Block

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 20. (P)—Baseball trade winds blew today as the minor league meeting opened—but few trades were consummated.

Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals, was very much in the spotlight with his announcement that 30 of the 38 Red Birds were on the auction block.

Only "Dizzy" and Paul Dean, and Jesse Haines, hurlers; outfielders Joe Medwick and Terry Moore; infielders Leo Durocher and James (Ripper) Collins, and Manager Frank Frisch are sure of Cardinal berths in 1936, Rickey said.

Among the reports was one that Billy Evans, former general manager of the Cleveland Indians, would take over the presidency of the Detroit Tigers. The world champions passed under control of

TWO TURF KINGS GET QUARTERS AT SANTA ANITA

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20. (P)—Santa Anita receives two outstanding handicap star—Top Row and Ladysman—this week.

Second in the big race here last spring, Ladysman was scheduled to arrive today from Lexington, Ky., with a dozen horses belonging to W. R. Coe.

The racer will wear the colors of Cleveland Putnam of Vail, Ariz., this season, having been sold last week with the understanding that if he wins the Santa Anita handicap, half the $100,000 added purse will go to Coe.

Two-time conqueror of Discovery, Top Row is scheduled to arrive later this week from Arlington Downs, his earnings increased $14,000 by his victory last Saturday in the Waggoner handicap in Texas.

ZORRITA'S RIGHT WINS L. A. BOUT FROM ROCCAFORTE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20. (P)—Behind all the way on points, Leon Zorrilla, Cuban welterweight, suddenly connected with a crushing right hand last night to knock out Tony Roccaforte, local Italian, at the Olympic in the eighth round.

Zorrilla weighed 146 pounds and Roccaforte 147.

Joe Bauer, Cleveland heavyweight, took a six-round decision from a Los Angeles opponent, Jack Darcy. Bauer tipped the scales at 185 pounds and Darcy at 190.

SPECTATORS' SPECTACLE
THINGS ARE getting so that the frenzied O. A. C. spectators—the ones in Section A, ringside—think it is up to them to provide the show at the weekly rassing bouts. Their sometimes too outspoken likes and their "brave" threats are reminiscent of small boys hurling epithets at safely caged lions. Secure both from the knowledge that in union is strength and the fact that the heckled wrestlers are, in the last analysis, more gentlemanly than the hecklers, the deriders talk a wonderful lot of action but do little.

U. S. C. FROSH BATTLE OFF SCHEDULE

Oceanside Here Friday Night; Spartans May Appear at Bowl

By PAUL WRIGHT
Negotiations to bring the Stanford university freshmen of Palo Alto to the Municipal bowl for a football engagement with Santa Ana Junior college next autumn were definitely under way today, following an announcement that the U. S. C. Trobabs will not schedule the Dons in 1936.

Temporary withdrawal of the Trojan frosh will not detract from the junior college calendar if Coach Bill Cook succeeds in luring Stanford's underclassmen. A sell-out would be assured barring unfavorable weather conditions.

"I already have contacted Stanford officials, who seem willing to send their freshman outfit here provided satisfactory financial arrangements can be made," Cook said.

Vikings Back Again

Long Beach's Vikings of the Western division will be back on Santa Ana's schedule, filling a date held this fall by Pasadena and last season by Compton.

The U. C. L. A. freshmen of Westwood have a tentative date arranged with the Padres. Because they are permitted to play only five games a season, the U. S. C. Trobabs wiped Santa Ana from their slate this year, and it was only through some fancy talking by Coach Cook and the Dons were retained after further consideration. Chaffey Junior college will be given the date next fall, but it is understood the Dons will be open to another engagement in the near future.

Open With Citrus

Under a rotating schedule, adopted in an Eastern conference meeting last year, Santa Ana will inaugurate its 1936 league season with the Citrus Owls at Azusa Oct. 9, and Riverside—the team the Dons met first this year—will entertain the Cookmen in the Riverside stadium the night of Nov. 13. Home games will be played with Chaffey (Ontario) Oct. 16, San Bernardino Oct. 23, Pomona Nov. 6. The Dons wind up their next campaign at Fullerton in their traditional Thanksgiving day feud. Oct. 30 is open.

There is a possibility the U. S. C. Spartans, composed of Trojan varsity reserves and ineligible, will replace the Trobabs on Santa Ana's '36 schedule.

The Dons continue their present season in a non-conference game with Oceanside Junior college here Friday night, and face Fullerton here Thanksgiving day. A victory over the Yellowjackets would shove Santa Ana into a probable four-way deadlock provided Chaffey upsets Riverside at Ontario the same day. Citrus would be the other team involved.

U. S. TEAM WINS
TOKYO, Nov. 20. (P)—America's barnstorming amateur baseball players shut out the Tokyo club today, 6 to 0.

Utah's first golf course, Forest Dale at Salt Lake City, has been made a municipal links.

UNDEFEATED MUSTANGS AND FROGS FACE BIG TESTS

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 20. (P)—Southern Methodist's untamed Mustangs and Texas Christian's unbeaten Frogs—the irresistible force and the immovable object of Southwest conference football which clash Nov. 30—were more apprehensive today over their game this Saturday.

Southern Methodist will be up against the Baylor University Bears, who beat them 13-6 last year.

Texas Christian meets the Rice Owls, beaten this year only by Southern Methodist. The Frogs gave the Owls their only defeat last year.

At Fort Worth, 25,000 are expected to see the clash of two 1934 all-American candidates, Darrell Lester, big T. C. U. center, and Bill Wallace, Rice halfback.

Bobby Wilson, Southern Methodist's five-star halfback, and Lloyd Russell, Baylor quarterback, will vie for glory before another 25,000 at Dallas.

FUND DENIED SERA; GIVEN TO WPA

Supervisors Transfer
Remainder of Relief
Bond Loan Money

Request of the Orange county relief administration that $15,000 from the unemployment relief bond loan fund be transferred to SERA was turned down yesterday by the board of supervisors. The money, according to a letter ordered sent to Terrence Halloran, county SERA director, has been allocated to Works Progress Administration projects.

At the same time the board decided not to transfer the $15,000 from the balance of $49,000 remaining in the fund, Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson was instructed to report at the next board meeting on allocation of the funds and the projects for which they will be used.

Time for Use Extended
In a statement outlining the supervisors' position, Supervisor W. C. Jerome said that under the law permitting borrowing from the unemployment relief bond loan fund until Oct. 10, 1933, it was agreed to extend the time for expenditure to Oct. 12, 1935.

In September of this year, he said, the state relief commission adopted a resolution urging that any county with a balance remaining in the unemployment relief loan fund use such balances before Dec. 1, and providing that any money not needed for direct relief could be allocated to WPA projects and other relief works.

Anxious to Clear Books
The office of State Controller Ray Riley, according to Supervisor Jerome, is anxious to clear the fund from its books and has informed him that if Orange county reportedly the only county showing a balance from the loan fund, will allocate its balance to WPA projects, the state will consider the money as expended.

The SERA, according to Supervisor Jerome, was scheduled to cease its functioning last July and it remained for the supervisors to decide whether or not more money should be appropriated to that organization's use.

NEW LIBRARIAN ASSUMES POST

"I am gratified to learn that Santa Ana is book-minded." After her second day as Santa Ana's librarian, Miss Ethel Walker, expressed her pleasure today that people of this city like and read books to the extent that they do.

"I think it may be because Santa Ana is a city of homes," she said.

Miss Walker, who for the past nine years has been connected with the Palo Alto public library, took charge of the Santa Ana library on Monday. She is staying at the Rosewood hotel, where she will remain until about Dec. 1, when her mother, Mrs. Bertha Klein, will arrive from Palo Alto. They then will make arrangements for their permanent home.

Miss Walker has had experience in the Cleveland, O., public library, and from 1923 to 1927 was in the Los Angeles city library and in the Long Beach library. In her work she has covered the four major departments of library work—circulation, reference, branch library work and cataloging.

In taking over her work here, Miss Walker succeeds Miss Jeanette McFadden, who recently resigned after more than 30 years of service.

LOCAL WEDDING AIRED IN SUIT

Admitting that a beer parlor acquaintance had pronounced them man and wife for $10, Robert S. James, Los Angeles beauty parlor operator, testified yesterday in an insurance suit in Los Angeles that he later had the marriage legalized in Santa Ana. The couple was married here last July by Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison.

Mr. James is attempting to collect double indemnity on an insurance policy taken out by his wife, and naming him beneficiary. The wife, a bride of less than a month, was found dead in a fishpond at their home last August.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company is suing to cancel the policy on the grounds of misrepresentation, alleging that Mrs. James was not legally wed at the time the policy was issued. Late yesterday it was reported by the Associated Press that negotiations for a settlement out of court had been started by the insurance company and Mr. James.

WAHLBERG TO SPEAK OVER STATION KFI

The value of windbreak protection will be outlined in a broadcast over KFI Friday, in which Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg will speak on planting, selection of varieties and management. His talk will go on the air at 11:50 a. m.

Some data also will be given showing increased returns from protected orchards.

Two Sisters, One Brother, 3 Cousins In Triple Wedding

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 20. (P)—Two sisters and a brother and three cousins joined in a triple wedding here yesterday.

The three Wrights are brothers and sisters, the two Stewarts are cousins and Catherine Stewart is a second cousin of Eugene Swafford.

SECOND ESSAY IS PRINTED

(Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles on "What I Saw at the Journal," written by members of the first year journalism class at Santa Ana Junior college. The first, which won a $3 first prize in a contest sponsored by The Journal, appeared yesterday. Today's article, written by Robert Swanson, won second place—a cash award of $2. The third report will be published tomorrow.)

By ROBERT SWANSON
I saw much but comprehended little.

It is impossible to see everything on the first visit to a newspaper plant, and of course most impossible to understand everything. I refer here to the machinery of a plant and not to the personnel of the organization. It was the personnel that interested me most of all. Hence it was in the newsroom that I saw more—it thrilled me more, too, because they represented what I hope to become some day.

They were all there—fresh-blooded people—before our very eyes. I think they were a little embarrassed at being stared at; that observation was what convinced me more than anything that they were ordinary people, but very efficient, I knew. They were introduced to us and we saw them in action. "Skinny" Stein using the old hunt-and-peck system and writing with his cap perched on the back of his head; Roch Bradshaw, pencil flying, speaking into a telephone and watching us all at the same time; Frank Rogers, the picture of laziness, yet eyes alert, slid down in his chair. These and others were working steadily, not feverishly like they do in the movies.

Teletypes Uncanny
In the newsrooms we saw the teletype machines which tapped out messages from all parts of the country—without the aid of a human hand. They looked like self-operating typewriters. There was something uncanny about them, at least to the most of the students who stared somewhat in awe.

In the next room I saw the intertype machines. I stared at them seated in front of them. They interested me more than the teletypes. The dexterity of their fingers was amazing as they manipulated the innumerable keys and other gadgets smoothly and softly as though they were afraid of hitting them too hard.

He Reads Funnies
While the intricacies of some machine were being explained by Mr. Felton, I stole off and read the funnies before they were put in the paper—something I had wanted to do for a long time. There was no light or shade to them and Fritz Ritz and Joe Palooka presented a very unusual appearance—in fact no appearance at all so far as I could determine.

I observed, in the course of the trip, the relationship between the editor and the other employees. I noticed that it was a cordial, friendly relationship, featured with bantering and joking. There was nothing here that was gloomy, sarcastic, or in any way unfriendly in the attitude of the editor and his workers. One could see that he was regarded as a real fellow by the staff and other workers of the plant.

I noticed that our class outnumbered the staff of the paper. How, thought I, can these people edit a paper every day when it takes our whole class to produce a weekly paper? What chance have I got? At the close of the visit, Mr. Felton said, in answer to a query as to who wrote the editorials, "I do, but there is much that I do not know about this work."

Again I asked myself, "what chance have I?"

D. A. V. OFFICER
HERE TONIGHT

Edward Swan, Redlands, eighth district commander, will make his official visit to Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, at its meeting tonight at the K. C. hall at 8 o'clock.

Commander Swan will elaborate on the department program for the coming year and report on the activities of this district, comprising San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial, San Diego and Orange counties.

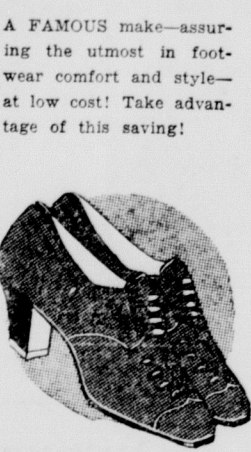

The sweepstake trophy won by the local D. A. V. in the Armistice day parade at Anaheim will be on display, and all participants will be present who had a part in the parade tableau, "The Great Example."

EXPECT SEVERAL CANDIDATES TO SEEK POSTMASTERSHIP TONIGHT

ONLY 2 HATS IN RING FOR JOB NOW

Democratic Committee
May Get Additional Applications

With the Orange county Democratic central committee scheduled to make its recommendation for appointment of a postmaster for Santa Ana tonight, several applicants were expected to be filed late today by hopeful candidates, according to City Judge John Mitchell, chairman of the committee. The committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the city council chamber.

At present there are but two candidates, Frank Harwood and Jules Markel, whose hats have been officially tossed into the ring. Mr. Markel's hat has been in the ring since the election of President Roosevelt in 1932. Mr. Harwood formally filed his application for consideration of the committee yesterday.

Witmer Mentioned
Prominently mentioned among the probable candidates is Paul Witmer, former Mayor of Santa Ana and at present federal land commissioner in Los Angeles. If Mr. Witmer becomes a candidate for the committee's recommendation, Democrats here believe that he will find a strong ally in H. H. Cotton of San Clemente and Los Angeles. While Mr. Cotton is not a member of the central committee he is a force in state Democratic circles, and many party members feel that his recommendations, or suggestions, will at least be given serious consideration by members of the committee.

Other candidates for the office, which will be vacant Jan. 26, 1936, expected to make formal application for committee endorsement are: Loyal K. King, W. M. Burke and John Knox, also a former Santa Ana mayor.

Not To Discuss Others
In the call for the central committee meeting tonight it was stated that the purpose of the session was making recommendations for filling the positions of postmaster at Santa, Tustin and Placentia. Judge Mitchell said today that he did not believe that the Placentia and Tustin vacancies will be discussed tonight.

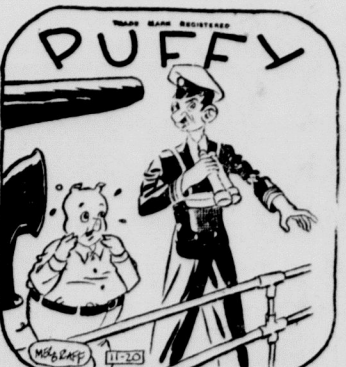

Indications today were that an interim postmaster will not be named to complete the term of T. E. Stephenson who resigned last week to accept appointment as county treasurer, succeeding the late E. B. Trager.

Because no word has been received from Washington, D. C., relative to naming an acting postmaster it is believed that the central committee's recommendations will be wired direct to Postmaster-General James A. Farley, who is expected to confirm the committee's action by return telegram.

TRIAL OF OIL SUITS CONTINUED

Trial of suits started last August on behalf of seven oil companies operating in the Huntington Beach tide lands field and seeking to enjoin the state from imposing production quotas and padlocking wells were continued until Dec. 23 when they were called for trial before Judge G. K. Scovel, department 3, superior court, Monday.

The suits were started by the Windy Oil company, Petrol Corporation, Venton Oil company, Fortuna Petroleum company, Ambassador Petroleum company, Wilshire Oil and Beloit Corporation. They named as defendants Carl B. Strutzenacker, chief of the division of state lands; Arlin E. Stockburger, director of state finances; and others.

"Dear me," moans the captain, "we'll soon be attacked—Those sailboats with PIRATES are certainly packed!"

"Don't stand there!" yells Puffy. "It's AUCTION we need. Let's load the big cannon and draw us a bead."

CONVICT GIRL OF SLAYING FATHER

Appeal to 25-Year Term
Planned By Relatives;
Jury Out 30 Minutes

WISE, Va., Nov. 20. (AP)—Attorneys for comely Edith Maxwell, 21, convicted of killing her blacksmith father because he objected to her coming home at midnight, pushed attempts today to sweep aside her 25-year prison sentence.

Her uncle, W. W. Dotson, said he would seek a motion for a new trial in the courtroom where a jury of mountaineers brought in a first-degree murder verdict last night after deliberating 30 minutes.

"Justice Has Been Done"
If the motion is denied, he said, he will carry the case to the supreme court of appeals.

"Justice has been done," was the only comment of Commonwealth's Attorney Fred B. Greear.

He cited the scriptural injunction, "honor thy father and thy mother," in urging the jury yesterday to convict the girl whose code had clashed with that of her "old-fashioned" father, Trigg Maxwell.

Mother Grief-Stricken
The girl's mother, grief-stricken over the verdict, faces trial in the spring on a murder charge. She was indicted with the daughter for the slaying of Maxwell, who was found dead July 21 in his cabin in Pound, Va.

By its verdict the jury discarded the self-defense contention of the young woman's counsel. "It don't think the girl should be made a heroine because she killed her daddy," Greear said.

The defense used each of three eye-witnesses to the tragedy, the defendant, her mother and the accused woman's 12-year-old sister, Mary Catherine, in an effort to show that the father, "roaring drunk," had attempted to beat the girl and that she had struck him with a shoe.

Called Them Dependents
"They were dependents, not independent," the elder Mr. Maag used to say, "because they depended upon the cooperative markets to hold up the prices, taking the long end for themselves."

John A. Maag's faith in co-

Operatives didn't end with the Santiago association. He helped organize the Central Lemon Growers' association in Villa Park, was a director of the Olive Heights Orange Growers' association, the Richland Walnut Growers' association and of the Orange County Fumigating association. He also was an organizer of the old Commercial bank of Santa Ana, now the First National bank.

When he had expanded his own territory to about 150 acres, he decided his sons could have a good future in the business too. Consequently each one of the boys, on about his 21st birthday, received a considerable plot of land. When "Dad Maag" decided that "sonny" really meant business and was going to settle down to make good, he put the property on an "easy-payment" plan and left the boy to learn about orange growing.

"We all grew up with the industry, anyhow," reminisced William Maag. "As soon as we were big enough to walk, there was work for us to do. Weeds had to be pulled out and it didn't take a very big boy to ride the tractor."

Frank, John, William, Charles and Clarence have all gone on to manage ranches in Orange, Olive and Santa Ana canyons. George and Joseph died the same year as their father. Henry, the only one whose interests strayed from the citrus industry, operates a barber shop in Hollywood. Two daughters and Mr. Maag's widow are still living.

Help Always Available
Local help was always available at the picking time. There weren't so many oranges then but markets weren't so extensive either.

Irrigation water for the Fair-haven road ranch came from three wells situated 15 to 18 feet apart and sunk near the river, giving a steady supply of water.

"Expansion of the industry. That was Dad's idea," recalled William Maag.

Son Recalls How John Maag Pioneered Association Idea For Orange Growers Here

By VIRGINIA SMITH

"There's a future in orange growing in Orange county if the growers can get together and sell their merchandise at a fair price," often remarked John Anton Maag, back in 1893. And he went into the red to prove it.

That was only the beginning of recollections of the late pioneer Orange cooperative leader for his son, William H. Maag, himself a prominent grower and a member of the board of directors for the Olive Heights Growers association.

Establishing himself on a 31-acre ranch on what is now Fairhaven road in Orange, Mr. Maag went to Orange in 1891. He had good luck with his crops but like all other growers of that period he was at the mercy of buyers sent out to get the produce at so-called "cut-throat" prices. One year he had to sell at 15 cents a box.

Organized Association
Everywhere he saw prosperous-looking little orchards being set out and he realized how big the industry could become under proper management.

So in 1893 he and D. F. Campbell, with other growers, organized the Santiago Orange Growers' association, the first cooperative marketing house established in Orange county and one of the first seven to affiliate with the California Fruit Growers' exchange.

But all the growers weren't convinced at first, his son remembered.

"So my father went to those growers and bought their oranges outright, promising, in addition, to pay them one-half of what he made over that amount. And he usually had some extra profits for them," the intrepid leader's son declared.

Called Them Dependents
"They were dependents, not independent," the elder Mr. Maag used to say, "because they depended upon the cooperative markets to hold up the prices, taking the long end for themselves."

LICENSES TO GUN CLUBS GRANTED

Five of Organizations Will Operate Under
New Ordinance

Five Orange county gun clubs were licensed yesterday by the board of supervisors under the recently effective regulatory ordinance. Clubs granted licenses without hearing were the Lomita Gun club, Westminster Gun club, West Coast Rod and Gun club, Cazadores Land and Water company, and the Los Patos Gun club.

Each application for licensing was accompanied by a check for $25 covering the first year's license. All clubs filing applications yesterday have been operating in the southwestern section of the county.

The recently adopted license ordinance requires that no license shall be issued unless a public hearing is held except for those organizations applying during the first year the law is in effect. Applicants during that period may be licensed without the formal hearing, at the discretion of the board of supervisors.

Under terms of the ordinance, which was adopted for the purpose of regulating the use of water in flooding duck ponds on club property, every pump used in flooding the ponds must be metered and the meter box kept open to inspection by a county officer at any time. The clubs will be permitted to use up to nine acres of water annually. Enforcement of the ordinance has been turned over to Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson.

Smart Fall Frocks Make First Elks' Club Dance Rendezvous for Fashions

130 Attend Affair At Lodge

Leland Auer's Orchestra Plays Popular Music for Evening Event

A swirl of late fall modes took the floor of the Elks club ballroom last night when lodge No. 794 sponsored the first of its monthly dances. Attendance reached 130 persons.

Mrs. Don Jerome, wife of the exalted ruler, led off the dancing parade of styles in a midnight blue velvet made with long sleeves. A girle of velvet caught in a crushed bow at the front.

Mrs. William Garvin wore a long-sleeved green crepe trimmed with white. Blister crepe satin in a color approaching gold lights was chosen by Miss Ruth Armstrong for the dance.

An apple green frock in smooth-crepe was Mrs. Bert Casteix's choice.

Mrs. Charles Givens had donned a violet crepe with collar and belt of darker shades of lavender. An ermine trim set off the blue velvet dinner dress worn by Mrs. E. R. Majors.

Perky in plaid taffeta, Mrs. Floyd Howard had chosen a frock in shades of autumn tans and brown.

Velvets were popular for Mrs. Bert Campbell in a long-sleeved blue, and Mrs. Clare Johnson in turquoise blue. Mrs. John Miller wore black crepe touched with red at the neck, while Mrs. John Gibson accented the neckline of her black crepe with a rhinestone collar.

Mrs. Don Hilliard's black chiffon crepe was set off with a collar of white. Mrs. V. L. Motry wore a fall green crepe.

Leland Auer's orchestra played for the affair. A buffet supper was served in the lodge rooms.

Scraps From a Gardener's Scrapbook

By IDA D. DEAKINS

With the years and years of gardening behind us it seems strange that there are so many new trees, shrub, vines and flowers that we have never heard of!

Just last week at a garden section meeting I heard Mr. Wilcox talk on shrubs, and many he mentioned are new to this part of the country. You know, I think that is one reason why a gardener never grows tired of gardening.

There is always that search for something new that leads us on. Perhaps a seed will produce an unheard of blossom or a bulb, a fascinating new bloom.

But back to shrubs. . . if you have some in your garden that have been there several years and are past their prime, why not take them out and try some of the newer ones? There are many that have beautiful flowers that are good for cutting.

I'll not try to tell you the names of the shrubs I am alluding to, but he plans to have them on display after Jan. 1, at his nursery, and I know it will be a delight to see them. As new plants, trees and shrubs come on the market, I'll get them so there will always be some thing of interest there. Mr. Wilcox has purchased a collection of over 25 varieties of flowering eucalypti. These have blossoms shading from yellow to deep red, some dwarf and others reaching the height of 25 or 30 feet.

If you are in need of something new in your kitchen window box, why not try some of the herbs? It's very convenient to have chives, parsley, sage, thyme and others handy and economical too, for you only have to use a leaf or two and that does not harm the plant. You know that bit of rhyme from the "Yarn of The Nancy Bell," about the cook who—

"Laid the water, and takes the salt
And the pepper in portion true
(Which he never forgets), and some chopped shallot.

And some sage and parsley too."
Did you ever wonder where he got his herbs? He must have had a kitchen, or I should say galley, garden of pot herbs. The herbs are easily grown, and water cress is not hard to have. I've already mentioned chives, but did you know that the blossom of chives is very pretty, a dainty lavender bloom?

Plant some seeds now in your pots or box and have the plants through the winter and put them in the garden in the spring.

Two Months of Happiness Would Make Marriage Worthwhile Venture for "Undecided"

This is the age of miracles! In a mighty voice that proclaims faith, hope and happiness of future years for Mr. Undecided, the young man of 32 who has been given three years to live by his physician, our readers march as a mighty thought army to his rescue.

Shall he marry the girl he loves and who insists that they take those three years of happiness together?

The little home they built together awaits them and they are financially able to make the venture. His parents and hers bitterly oppose the marriage although they would not have done so until his illness came upon him.

What do you say? Here are a few more of the many letters in hand:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I feel like a child "butting in" on a grown-up's affair. However, after reading Mr. Undecided's letter, I cannot resist.

I was very fond of a young man, and we spent one very happy year together.

In June he went with his parents on a trip and was to have been away for two months. The day he was expected back I called his home and was told he was seriously ill with appendicitis. Of course, I felt terrible about it, but only thought of it as a temporary delay in our being together again.

Fate felt differently about it. Three days later he died.

It's hard even yet to believe he's not still on a "trip," but I must say to Mr. Undecided: Take your three years of happiness while you can!

Miracles happen every day. Just suppose you give her up and discover as I sincerely hope you will that the doctors were wrong. Imagine both of your feelings? After all, three years is a long time, although in your view may seem very short.

I am so interested in your problem that I hope you will let us know your final decision and that it will be in the form of a marriage announcement.

I know I would have married if I'd known my sweetheart had only two more months on this earth. My sincerest wishes for your health and the fulfillment of your love. MISS INTERESTED.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Should the school year be continued throughout all 12 months? Mrs. E. A. Daniels: No, I don't think so. It would be too hard on the children. I brought up two families and my children always have been all tired out before the school year ends, though they have all been very healthy. I don't think many children could hold out under a 12-month school year.

Mrs. Charles Preston: It's too much for some children. They need the vacation rest. It would depend on the child. A child who could get along with a 12-month school year should attend summer school, rather than to have all children have school all the year.

TRUSTING PUBLIC OFFICERS

BOTH the Santa Ana board of education and the Orange county supervisors, in proposing new bond issues, are asking the voters to approve bonds calling for more money than may be used.

The board of education seeks money with which to finish the high school building program and to give Lathrop Junior high school its long promised and much needed auditorium. For the high school $223,000 is proposed; for Lathrop, $100,000. Each school issue will be voted upon independent of the other.

The school board is proceeding on the theory that the PWA grant sought before the last bond election, and apparently lost in the shuffle, may never materialize. The building program is so urgent, however, that it must be completed even though the district pays the entire cost. If WPA money is obtained on the basis on which other grants have been made, the school district likely will be able to save nearly half of what is authorized. This, as was recently done in another school bond issue, would be returned to the district intact. Voting the bonds now will insure the completion of the buildings, the elimination of the tent city and the safety of our children.

The supervisors' problem, while not the same as the school board's, is somewhat related. The board does not know exactly how much money will be required to acquire rights-of-way, relocate roads, and move some buildings at Prado. It expects to effect a saving of $1,033,000 under the estimate of the U. S. army engineers, largely through economies which may be made in rights-of-way purchases. In view of the contemplated savings the board suggests that a contingent fund of $1,620,000 be set up to be used only in an emergency and that the first sale of bonds shall amount only to $5,000,000.

Supervisor West does not agree with this plan and voted against it yesterday. Elsewhere in The Journal Mr. West is given an opportunity to state his views in detail; also there is published the stated position of Mr. West's colleagues on the board. You may read them and take your choice. We believe both the supervisors and the board of education should be treated as honest citizens and business men until they prove themselves otherwise. That may be an old-fashioned idea but we think it should be applied in both cases.

THEN AND NOW

THE American Bankers' Association, in New Orleans convened, is hearing some speeches quite different from the desperate tunes sung by the Bankers' Guild in the dark days of 1929 and the early thirties.

President Rudolph Hecht says the government must "withdraw from many fields of business." A Utah banker named Orval Adams, less moderate, agitates for what amounts to a bankers' strike against further financing of government loans until such time as the government satisfies the bankers it intends to balance the budget, practice "rigid economy" and evolve "sound tax plans."

Doubtless, the government could stand some preaching on account of its spending operations. But hardly from the bankers. Many of these government borrowings were made in order to save the banks themselves. More than three billion dollars were invested by the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in loans to banks, investments in bank capital and loans to depositors in closed banks.

All of the 7.6 billion dollars the RFC has authorized in loans, exclusive of various congressional authorizations, was lent either to banks and their depositors or to railroads, insurance companies, mortgage firms and private industries—businesses then unable to obtain credit from private banks.

This 7.6 billion dollars which the government has thrown to banking and business is greater than the 7.3 billions spent by cities, states and federal government in the past two and a half years for relief of human beings.

And what, one wonders, would have happened to the banks if the government had not gone into business. In 1930, '31 and '32, banks to the number of 5112 were closed. By March 4, 1933, it seemed necessary for all of them to close. Thanks largely to government in business the banks have regained their health. Thanks also to the government, bank depositors have regained their confidence.

Of course, the government should balance its budget, evolve a "sound tax plan" and withdraw from private business as soon as private business shows it is ready to take over the job. Until such time, however, it is unseemly for bankers to threaten to strike against the government that saved them.

CHRISTMAS CONFIDENCE

IN SANTA ANA, and in virtually every other city in the West, the biggest Christmas savings fund in history will be distributed this year. Not only are there more accounts this year, but each account averages higher than ever. Figures from past years show that from 50 to 60 per cent of the money goes directly into retail channels; the rest is either rebanked, or used for trips.

In the West, sales are up farther than in any other section of the country. We are a buoyant people and when we decide that it's time to cast away our fear and go ahead, we do it in a big way.

In other years, people took their Christmas money, looked at it and said: "Well, maybe it would be a good idea to hang onto this for a while longer."

This year, seemingly, they figure: "Well, I'll spend this, because there's more where it came from."

That's the confidence you've been hearing so much about.

In the West in the next month, money will be circulated faster than for years. That will help everyone.

Meanwhile, it's not too early to be starting on that Christmas shopping, before the crowds grow so dense and stocks are whittled down.

Whimsies

of O. O. McIntyre

The most evanescent of metropolitan patronage is the cocktail hour trade. It suddenly effervesces at this place and that and poof! it is gone. There are records of its returning, but not many. As a rule it's a popularity never recaptured.

Generally the trail is blazed by some group of celebrities. They are tired of the place they have been frequenting and seek another. If the management is wise it makes a great to-do. And out of this small beginning may come a packed place for a month or so.

The usual life of such spots is six weeks. That is why so many cocktail bars have opened and closed recently. Just now it seems to have lodged around the plaza entrance to Central park. Eddie Duchin is there and Dwight Fiske across the way.

Last winter Park avenue in the 50's had the bulge. Tomorrow it may swirl toward the East river. The shiftiness is symbolic of the types of restless nomads who give this period its mock gaiety. They have no place to go save home—and home is terrible.

From an observing novelist: "An inferiority complex is bad enough but a superiority complex is worse. Heigh-ho! I mean the parvenu who is so strictly correct he says 'Between you and I.'"

No branch of the entertainment profession is completely shorn of talent as ventriloquism. Or is it ventriloquy? There used to be a ventriloquist to every second vaudeville bill. Marshall Montgomery, for instance, was a standard act for 20 years. As vaudeville began to decline, many of the performers sought cheap engagements, but there was an intimacy that spoiled the illusion. Most of them had to turn to other callings. I ran across one who had become a waiter in Beefsteak Charlie's not long ago.

Jed Kiley, convalescing from a distressing illness, has capitalized his experience in a magazine gag—gagadash shortly to appear. It is titled: "Meet My Angina." The title is the last name and she's a gal men don't forget. With proceeds of the story sale and picture rights, Kiley will spend a month loitering on the Florida sands.

Andrew Carnegie was an enthusiastic admirer of Victor Herbert. He once said his idea of Heaven was to have Herbert playing his tunes for him days with end. The composer, like the steel master, was something of a philanthropist. He did not give libraries away but always carried a vest pocket well jingled with five dollar gold pieces so any actor at the Lamb's, where he lunched, might be tided over a rough stretch. One day, leaving the club, a small, almost shabby man, with a shaggy gray beard buttoned, he said: "Could I speak to you a moment, Mr. Herbert?" he murmured deferentially. Herbert, a bit mindfully secreted a gold piece and pressed it into the stranger's palm with a handshake. Carnegie really wanted to engage Herbert for his Pittsburgh symphony, which he did. But he kept the coin as a lucky pocket piece until his passing.

Florence Walton, back from a long self-exile in Europe, has been conspicuous at the important first nights this winter, swathed in rare furs and glittering with jewels. The years have brushed her lightly. She was one of the terpsichorean triumvirate reigning so spectacularly 15 years ago. The other two were Marguerite Hawkesworth and Irene Castle. Each married men of sizable fortunes.

David Warfield has come through the depression reputedly to remain America's wealthiest actor. Much of his fortune was in a motion picture stock that passed through a severe storm but emerged on even keel—as formidable as before the upset. Warfield relaxes daily with an old crowd of pinocchio players.

One of those mad roller skaters was back of me on the park mall last evening. The terrible sort of long strides and quick running steps. I started to sit on a bench until he passed. And then I thought: "Where's the McIntyre spirit?" And kept walking. As he neared I lost courage and stepped aside. He swerved at the same time and we collided. When I got straightened up he was a fling and I wasn't more than three inches from a good cry with hand wringing myself.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—A bombshell is waiting behind the scenes for hundreds of business communities which sell goods and services to the government.

The Guffey coal act requires government agencies to buy coal only from companies which are operating under the code provided in the Guffey act. Few know, however, that there is a section (14-a) in the act—slipped in just before it was passed—that bars the awarding of government contracts to all industrial concerns that do not use code coal.

Under the spurring of the bituminous coal board, the procurement division of the treasury is moving to put this sweeping clause into effect. Several days ago it held a secret conference of government purchasing agents to discuss the framing of a new contract form for federal buying.

The effect of this provision is far-reaching in the extreme. It means that concerns selling shoes, shirts, food to the army and navy; utilities supplying electricity to post offices; building contractors, steel makers, warship builders, railroads carrying mail, in short, practically all industry must use code coal or do without government business.

The leverage this specification gives the coal board in forcing code operators to sign the code is terrific—which is exactly why it was eased into the law. The effect of the clause is to cut off non-complying coal companies from a vast volume of business something which few will, or can, long resist.

SELF CONTROL

A STRANGER walked into the office of Senator Moore, of New Jersey, the other day and asked to see him.

"The senator is not in the city," said Jack O'Brien, his secretary. "What did you want to see him about? Perhaps I can help you."

"I'm trying to get a job and I'd like a letter of recommendation to the bureau of self control."

"The bureau of what?"

"The bureau of self control."

It finally developed that the caller wanted a job in the bureau of space control, which assigns office space in government buildings.

NEW ROLE

THE Home Owners Loan corporation is undergoing a quiet metamorphosis. Once a $3,000,000,000 savior of distressed home owners, it is now becoming hard-boiled foreclosing of mortgages.

The change in character is not due to a sudden accession of hard-heartedness. The HOLC is operating wholly in line with the law. With the exhaustion of its lending resources, the agency is now occupied chiefly with administering the 900,000 pieces of property on which the government made loans.

In fulfilling this function, the HOLC is finding it necessary to foreclose on homes at the rate of 150 to 200 weekly, due to failure to meet payments, abandonment of property and other causes.

To handle this growing liquidation problem the HOLC has set up a new section, the property management division. In charge is Col. Harold Lee, former New York lawyer and real estate operator, who won his colonelcy overseas with the 36th division.

The rate of foreclosures is now running one to every 400 homes mortgaged. Total liquidations to date are around 2000, of which the HOLC still has about 400 on its hands.

Homes taken over by the government are disposed of either by renting or by selling through real estate agencies in the local communities. The disposition of the properties is so handled that real estate values are not disturbed.

GOAT GLAND VICTOR

IT looks as if Dr. John R. Brinkley, famous goat-gland specialist of Kansas, has finally licked the state department and the federal communications commission in his fight to broadcast his medicinal cures from Mexico.

The Mexican supreme court has given Dr. Brinkley the right to reopen his radio station—one of the strongest in the world—just across the Texas border.

The state department, which lodged vigorous protests with the Mexican government, has decided that it cannot go beyond the Mexican supreme court.

(NOTE: Charles Curtis, when vice president, went to bat for Dr. Brinkley in his fight with the state department.)

ON THE HIP

IT'S A CLOSELY guarded "Triple A" secret, but the bakers have Secretary Henry Wallace on the hip in his war with them over bread prices.

Wallace may be convinced the bakers are gouging. He may yell "profiteers" from the house-tops, but he can't prove it. He lacks the authority to get the figures to sustain his charges.

He has only himself to blame for the loss of this potent weapon. Among the original AAA amendments sent to congress last session, was a provision giving the AAA power to examine the books of processors. Naturally, the latter fought it tooth and nail. And Wallace, under pressure of Chester Davis—real boss of the Agricultural Adjustment administration—agreed to a "compromise."

The revised clause as finally enacted is virtually meaningless. It gives the government authority to go over the books of processors only where a question of payments exists. There are but 30 such agreements, covering milk and minor specialty crops. The millers, packers, textile manufacturers, etc., who handle the major crops are not covered.

And this is not all. Even in the case of parties to marketing agreements, the AAA is not free to make public the figures it obtains.

The law affords one other way for the AAA to obtain cost and profit data. If a processor files claim for a refund of processing taxes he must open his books to prove the tax was not passed on to consumers. But here again the law is a joker. None of the big processors have filed claims.

As a sort of last-straw effort, Wallace is sending a questionnaire to the bakers asking them voluntarily to supply the information which he needs in order to condemn them.

His chances of getting it can be imagined.

(NOTE: While the AAA is stopped from getting the low-down on the bakers, the Federal Trade commission has the authority and is preparing to do so. The senate has directed the commission to make a nation-wide investigation of food costs, and one of the first items on its calendar is bread.)

Howdy, folks: "What," queries a lecturer, "constitutes classical music?"

That's easy. Classical music is popular music with the tunes removed.

In some homes, father knows it is time to get up and go to the office when he hears the children coming in.

YE DIARY

Thys evening to reading a magazine, mighty naughty, the first I have read in three years, and astonished to see how far they now go, or else hath middle age made me prudish; but, indeed, such spicy magazines do be stupid reading, and fit for naught, but the aschian, where, when I have finish, I do put it.

He breathed deeply . . . a strange maddening perfume made his senses reel. (Continued on Page 9274.)

Remarkable Remarks

I never saw a crook yet who did not point an accusing finger at somebody else and say he himself was small fry or a virtuous business man.—Thomas F. Dewey, New York "racket" prosecutor.

Before this administration came into power, with its philosophy of the economy of scarcity, America helped feed the world. After two years and a half of New Deal policies, the world is helping feed America.—Henry P. Fletcher, Republican national chairman.

I think history has demonstrated the only way to get what you want is to go after it. As far as empire-building is concerned, there seem to be only two methods—the so-called peaceful penetration or absorption and conquest.—Gen. Italo Balbo.

The way to learn how to do a thing better is to study how it has been done before. That's the way to study history.—Henry Ford.

Commonwealth of the Philippines

THE commonwealth of the Philippines gets under way with loud acclaim. Manuel Quezon, independent worker for independence against both Spaniards and Americans, reaches the goal of his ambition. As president he seizes the reins of power in this newest addition to the family of nations.

MEMBERS of the Philippines legislature sign the declaration of sovereignty with their own blood. Somewhat like secret orders which demand oaths of loyalty in bloody signatures. An ominous grimace hangs over the whole proceedings.

CONGRESSIONAL parties lend more of gayety than dignity to the installation of President Quezon. Vice President Garner looks solemn. Erstwhile Detroit politico, Frank Murphy, retiring governor general and now high commissioner, beams his bland benevolence. President Roosevelt sends felicitations and the blessings of his countrymen on the new nation.

THE commonwealth of the Philippines will need prayers and devotion and high purposes. These are strenuous days for the venturing out on troubled waters. Already the Filipinos are making elaborate plans for national defense, devising taxes to spend on armies and navies and bombing planes, just like all civilized nations. Their new setup omits a department of peace, following similar commissions in all other countries.

FOR 10 years the Philippines commonwealth will be under American protection, meaning that it can make faces at all neighbors and when the skies look black, it can run under Uncle Sam's sheltering wing. Makes it nice that way. Expanding Japan can plan quietly for absorption of the islands. The Filipinos can have their little fling at liberty, and America can feel righteous complacency.

ALL of which follows the subtle plans laid by Japanese imperialism. America's withdrawal simplifies a movement as inexorable as fate itself. The white man is on the way out as a political power in the Orient. It will soon be taps for him in that sector of the globe. Peace and stability will thereby be insured. We may fondly hope that when America cuts loose from the islands the separation may be definite and complete.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Good evening. Have you had your frost report? About this season of the year Floyd D. Young, meteorologist at Pomona, either sends a chill down the spinal column of the rancher, or relieves the nervous tension. It's either put on the heat, or leave it off. Orange growers have more than associations and exchanges to deal with. And a most important element is weather. Scientific heating methods have accomplished much to prevent frost damage, but even at that it's not a welcome sound to hear a frost whistle, or change the sartorial appearance and sally forth to light smudge pots. It's extra labor and expense. It's extra into the revenue, but try to stop it. When mankind gets to running the weather and is able to distribute the kind of every section wants when it needs it, then our troubles will be over. But don't wait for it. Do the best you can now and let the future take care of itself.

Just because Paul Slavin weighs in about my avoirdupois he thinks the angle system of negotiating an intersection can be employed. It can and it's dangerous. But the indifferent attitude on the part of many drivers would suggest the peak of caution. Now here's consistency for you. There isn't a day that I do not violate the rule. One of these gloomy afternoons when most people are feeling blue and reckless, some guy who didn't want to see will probably take a dip and send me so far that even a classified ad in the lost column wouldn't find me. This warning is to you and you and you. Oh, well, let me in, too.

Got to get an oculist to examine "Mickey" Walker's eyes. Coming across the street this afternoon with Ted Stephenson, "Mickey" hurls a "Mutt and Jeff" salutation. If that boy can't get help or poison I wonder how much help. But I have a preference.

Letter drifted in yesterday from a minister who tolerated my affiliation with a congregation back in the midwest. Some Santa Ana tourist turned in my address. You know, along the old line that be sure your sins will find you out. And now the minister makes some inquiries which if answered within the strict interpretation of the scripture would furnish enough material for a revival meeting. The incident suggests that the subject of this inquiry retreat to the school kids' club to skip it.

Caught waving my arms at Dan Mulholland, who occupies a governmental uneasy chair in a second story office window. The plain clothes man was Don Jerome. He says: "Here, Abbie, what's the matter with you?" and I couldn't tell him, and Dan wouldn't. The demonstration was just a friendly gesture understood by Dan but misunderstood by Don. Dan these fellows with just three letters in their first name; however, it sometimes helps you express yourself with nothing else will meet the situation. You got to change two letters, and then, you could use one more.

If you haven't made provision for your turkey better give the purchase some consideration. By official proclamation you are supposed to have one on the table Thursday, November 28, 1935, but it takes a lot of industry and economy to validate a proclamation. I haven't been on speaking terms with a turkey since 1929. Understand the bird was taken for a ride with all of this talk about turkey. When Nebuchadnezzars were puttin' on almost daily banquets.

Calvin Flint presides as program chairman for a luncheon club. He imposes a fine on Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson whose signature to the contract which employs Flint is required. That takes real courage, or else Calvin knows his man. To show an impartiality in the distribution of fines he also hangs one onto "DK" Hammond, who takes a fatherly and motherly interest in junior college management. Oh, well, I can understand. For it's always fair weather when good fellows get together. But remember this—we need more rain.

In spite of safety signals placed at railroad crossings, fatalities have increased the past year. Which reminds me of an incident when a train was approaching, wig-wagging, the driver could have negotiated the crossing provided everything about the car functioned properly, but he refused to take any risk. He said he had too much time to dispute the right-of-way with a train. Compare this attitude with the driver who wants to beat the train at the crossing—and doesn't. The margin between the present and eternity is narrow enough as it is without inviting such a precarious contest.
